

Sexually Transmitted Diseases in the U.S. A New Policy & Program Beginning

Agenda – Day 1

Tuesday, November 2, 2021

1:00 pm

Let's Engage!

Welcome to the virtual NCS D Annual Meeting! It's not STD Engage, but it will be a close runner-up. Meet your fellow conference attendees and hear how the virtual meeting will be conducted over the next three Tuesdays!

Facilitator

Kathleen Jeanty, Senior Director, Communications & Special Initiatives, NCS D

1:30 - 2:00 pm

Welcome

A lot has changed since we last met at STD Engage 2019. The pandemic has marched on, and the STD field has continued to make historic contributions to COVID contact tracing, STD telehealth and home self-collection testing. With historic investments in our field increasing, we are starting a new direction. Hear welcoming remarks from the NCS D board chair, annual meeting conference chair, and NCS D's executive director. We promise to be short and to the point!

Presenters

George Walton, MPH, Chair, NCS D Board, Iowa Department of Public Health

David C. Harvey, Executive Director, NCS D

Michael Kharfen, Chair, NCS D Annual Meeting Planning Committee

2:00 - 2:15pm

Break

2:15pm - 3:15pm

What's the Plan? An Update on Federal STI & HIV Implementation Plans

Why is it important for the federal government to have “plans” and how will this impact your day-to-day work? We know.....public policy may not be your first cup of coffee in the morning, but this important update will let you know where our field is going at the national level. Remember when you were asked to give input into the first ever STI federal plan? Now is your chance to learn about next steps – be ready to pose your questions and make suggestions!

Moderator

Stephanie Arnold Pang, Senior Director, Policy & Government Relations, NCSD

Presenters

Harold Phillips, MRP, Director, Office of National AIDS Policy (ONAP), The White House
Timothy P. Harrison, PhD, Deputy Director, Office of Infectious Disease and HIV/AIDS Policy, U.S. Department of Health & Human Services

3:30pm - 5:00pm

Leading Program & Implementation Science at the CDC: Innovations and New Initiatives

We are thrilled that the leadership of NCHHSTP, DASH, DSTDP, and DHP (know your acronyms?) are joining us for an important update on where CDC is going with innovations, changes, and new directions. Two divisions, DSTDP and DHP, have new directors – meet them, ask questions, and carefully listen for where we are heading at a historic moment for public health!
